

What about electricity and adapters?

Lebanon uses 220 volt current and European-style electricity outlets (2 prongs). Computers already have converters for the voltage issue, but other small electronics may not. You can purchase adapters in local shops for under $2.